Nicole & Michael –

I think we still have a few issues to work through about scope and topics, but on the assumption that we can work through those I wanted to try to get a date on the calendar as a placeholder. Assuming we can reach agreement, Valve is available for deposition on August 6. When we last spoke, Apple was going to think further about whether to go forward with topic 1.e at this time—if Apple intends to go forward with it at this time, that may affect the designee and availability, so we will need to discuss scheduling further and get back to you.

I'm in a deposition later today, but how is your schedule to talk on Wed or Thurs?
